Vice Premier Horia Sima Is Arrested

Charged With Leading Forces Which Revolted
Against Antonescu

Bucharest, Rumania, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Vice Premier Horia Sima, Iron Guard chief named by the Rumanian government as a leader of the forces which revolted against the Antonescu regime early this week, was reported under arrest today.

A newspaper dispatch to Budapest, Hungary, from Bucharest said it was reported that Rumanian soldiers had stormed the Iron Guard's "Green House" quarters in the hunt for Sima, who had barricaded himself there.

Charges of looting as well as rebellion were reported lodged against Guardist leaders. They were accused of sacking synagogues and wrecking the newspaper plants of Universul and Curentul.

An attempt to assassinate Premier General Ion Antonescu declared in a signed statement in the newspapers today that a midnight attempt to assassinate him had touched off the bloody rebellion.

An important nest of 250 rebels was broken out at noon today. They were said to have had a large cache of hand grenades, guns, food, liquor and cigarettes.

Antonescu's summary said: "Men whom I trusted and all those dear children in whom I put such faith and advised to respect the death of Codreanu (Corneliu Codreanu, Iron Guard martyr) could find no other way to show their faith in me than to send bullets against me and the state."

"In the pages of history there does not exist a page of greater ingratitude. In the premier's office I worked like a slave early and late. I abandoned my home so as not to lose a minute."

"They organized against me with the help of former Minister of Interior (General George) Petrovich and Director of Gendarmes Ghica, and officers of the municipal police. They concentrated vagabonds and malcontents and assembled pieces of artillery, machine-guns and rifles with which they tried to assassinate me by night. The attempt did not succeed, so they attacked by day."

"At the same time, in institutions with money paid into the state by you citizens, they installed rebel groups and with them were joined enemies of the state, young idealists and innocents who were betrayed from the start."

"Strikes were called. Factories were burned while suburbs of the neighborhood were ransacked and pillaged. I tried without success to stop the rebellion. I, who made the coup d'etat of September 6 without shedding blood."

Conscientious Objector To Draft Here Changes Mind

Special Form No. 47, available to registrants with Kankakee county selective service boards who are conscientious objectors to combatant military service, is a headache.

Its four pages are a jumble of opportunities for conscientious objectors to "describe the actions and behavior in your life which in your opinion most conspicuously demonstrate the consistency and depth of your religious convictions."

Perhaps this is the reason why a letter was written by one selective service registrant as follows:

"Since the day of registering in October, I have changed my mind about being a conscientious objector to military training. You do hereby have my wholehearted support, and scratch my name from the list of conscientious objectors."

Who Would It? Selective service officials are of the opinion this registrant read Special Form No. 47 and decided: "The heck with it. I'd rather be in the army."

Selective service officials also have received objections from another registrant for an altogether different reason:

"I am going with a girl. We are figuring on getting married. I would like to put this (military training) off until we have been married a little while. Then I will be ready."

KAYS UPSET BLOOM; BATTLE IRISH CAGERS HERE

Bradley Beats St. Anne; Faces Blue Island Tonight

Laffeymen Win Seventh Game In Valley Loop

Bradley high school basketball team, fresh from its conquest in the Kankakee Valley tournament, renewed its chase for the conference championship in St. Anne last night by whipping the preps of that town, 44 to 25. This was Bradley's seventh league triumph against one defeat, and their 14th of the season counting those outside the conference. To-night Bradley steps outside the conference when it plays St. Anne at 8:30 o'clock, following a 7:30 o'clock preliminary between the lightweight of both schools.

After a sluggish first half last night, Bradley hit its stride in the third quarter and St. Anne lost before the withering onslaught that continued through the early portion of the fourth period. Coach Bradley's Laffey Valley champions were trailing St. Anne at the end of the first quarter 6 to 2, and were in front only 13 to 12 at intermission. They pulled up a 25 to 17 lead by the close of the third period.

St. Anne's Earl Benchoe and Mark Marlar, regulars combined to count 23 points. Wastels collected 15, Benchoe 10, and Marlar eight, W. Metter and O. Metter, St. Anne forwards, paced the losers with 10 and six points, respectively. Bradley's lightweight team continued to remain close to the top of the conference heap with an impressive 21 to 13 victory over St. Anne in the preliminary. Like the previous contest, the lightweight game was close during the first half with the score tied 6-6 at the close of the first quarter, and St. Anne leading at halftime 14 to 13. Bradley, holding St. Anne scoreless in the third quarter, led going into the last quarter 24 to 14. Marlar, with 11 points, and Coach, who paced the Earl Jones-coached five while Forward Weber led St. Anne with eight.

Erroll And Olivia Co-Star Again In "Santa Fe Trail"

David Bruce Has Strong
Supporting Role In Adventure Film

Errol Flynn, that most handsome of all the swashbuckling screen adventurers, is waving sabers, firing pistols, flailing fists and galloping horses again this time in "Santa Fe Trail," which is to have its local premiere Sunday at the Paramount. And back of the cameras was the old master of fast action and solecisms, Michael Curtiz, the director credited with "discovering" Flynn (it was in "Captain Blood") and who has guided Errol through six or seven pictures since that time.

Back too, in Flynn's arms, is Olivia De Havilland, just to make the reunion complete. Starting with that same "Captain Blood" they have been in a half dozen or more pictures together, indicating that Warner Bros. consider it a sort of "by public demand" obligation. Fan approval, indicated by mail received, long has proved the studio right.

But don't get the idea that "Santa Fe Trail" is following any formula just because Olivia, Errol and Curtiz are together again. The story is several of the most exciting chapters right out of our American history books, knit together in dramatic pattern by Virginia-born Robert Buckner, Warner studio scenarist. It is primarily the story of "bloody" Kansas Territory and the eastern end of the Santa Fe Trail during the days of John Brown and his Abolitionist raiders; days in which the United States Cavalry had more than plenty to do; days that almost changed a nation's destiny.

Real characters come to life on the screen in the film. Flynn is Lieut. J. E. B. "Jeb" Stuart and his partner in adventure is Lieut. George Cluster, as portrayed by Ronald Reagan. Five other young fellows, all under contract to Warner Bros., portray historical characters. They are William Lundigan as Robert Holliday, David Bruce as Phil Sheridan, Frank Wilcox as James Longstreet, William Marshall as George Pickett, and George Haywood as John Hood.

"Santa Fe Trail" Starts Sunday

"Lucky Partners" at Majestic Sunday

Bette Davis Plays Kit Cornell Role

Bette Davis plays the part of Leslie Crosbie in "The Letter," opening at the Paramount Thursday was the most difficult role she ever attempted and it's all the fault of Katharine Cornell.

Leslie Crosbie was difficult enough without the Cornell hazard. She is a fragile well-bred gentle person but she commits a brutal murder and carries it off with the nonchalance of a lady presiding at the garden party.

"It's a great part," Miss Davis said, "a very wonderful part—but I saw Katharine Cornell do it on the stage. She did it in New York in 1927. I was so fascinated by her acting and genius and I saw the play twice, and I can recall every vivid detail of her performance."

But you see, I'm not at all like Kitty Cornell. I had to make this part mine, all mine, my very own.

It was the hardest thing I ever tried, because I kept remembering Cornell in the part. It's doubtful if any actress ever paid another so sincere a compliment as that.
